My Strong Education Benefits My Patients

“Studying for years at respected schools has given me a solid education on which to build. But the learning process doesn’t end. I continue to pursue education and learn about the latest equipment and treatments so that patients can always expect the best care possible.”

DPT: Doctorate of Physical Therapy, Rocky Mountain University, Utah

MS: Physical Therapy, Springfield College, Springfield, MA

BS: Springfield College, Springfield

Awards: Who’s Who Comprehensive Registry, Who’s Who Executives & Professionals

Professional Groups Help Raise My Level of Care

“Participation in professional groups allows me to share my own experiences with others, as well as to learn from others in my field. It’s a great way to add to my own services and raise the level of care I’m able to provide.”

Member: American Physical Therapy Association

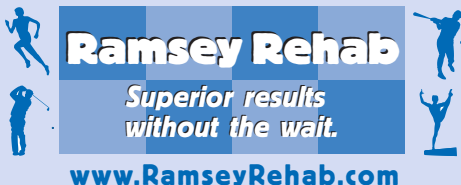

My Commitment Helps My Community, Too

“Every member of the community is important to me. That’s why I always spend time donating my services to various groups and organizations. I got into this profession to help people, and that’s why I put myself out there in the community, as well. When I make a life commitment, I believe in sticking to it and making the most of it to help as many people as possible.”

Community Service: Big Brother, Knights of Columbus (Board of Directors), North Central Massachusetts Chapter of the American Red Cross (Board of Directors)

Lecturer, Teacher, Consultant, Volunteer

“Our common goal at Ramsey Rehab is to help people who have injuries, illnesses or conditions that can be helped through modern physical therapy methods and techniques. When you are in pain, you don’t want to wait for help. That’s why we usually see you within 24 hours of your call for an appointment, and we help you recover in less time, too. It’s rewarding to see people get back to their healthy lifestyles so quickly.”
